MEND THE PAVEMENTS.

Taxpayers Along Kansas Avenue
Speak as One Man.

REPAIR THE ASPHALT AT ONCE

Is What They Say, and Not a Man of Them is for Brick.

The largest taxpayers and business men of Topeka, having the best interests of the city at heart want the asphalt repaired, and that without delay. They speak through the JOURNAL today in a voice which cannot well be disregarded.

A JOURNAL reporter talked to about fifty taxpayers about the asphalt proposition, and only two men in that number were found who were opposed to making the repairs in the asphalt pavement. One of these was a brick manufacturer and the other a pessimist with a disordered liver. With these two exceptions the unanimous verdict was:

Repair the pavement.
Repair without delay.
Repair with asphaltum.

Among the opinions gathered on this subject by the JOURNAL man, were:

G. G. Sage—"The asphalt is the finest pavement in the world and it should be repaired by all means. With a very little expense the pavement we have ought to be good for ten years more. More than half of it is as good as the day it was put down. I own seven lots on Kansas avenue and I have paid $8,000 for my share of this asphalt, and I do not propose to see brick substituted, or the asphalt patched with brick. Talk to that effect is a 'brick scheme' that should not be tolerated." Mr. Sage took the reporter to the center of Kansas avenue and pointed out that about the only place the asphalt needed repairs was within the fifteen feet on either side of the car tracks, where the bulk of the heavy traffic passes.

W. T. Crosby—"We want asphalt first, last and all the time, and I am glad the JOURNAL is agitating the subject. I have paid out considerable money in pavement taxes, but I don't begrudge a cent of it if the asphalt is kept in repair. The streets of Topeka are the pride of the city and should be kept up. I thought the letter of Mr. Bonebrake on this subject hit the nail on the head."

F. E. Holliday—"Mr. Swift and myself are interested in seven lots on Kansas avenue, and we want the pavement repaired. What is more we don't want any delay, and want the work done with the very best grade of real asphaltum."

A. F. Horner—"Now that we have the asphalt it is the poorest kind of policy not to keep it up."

John R. Mulvane—"The pavement should be repaired by all means, but I think from what I know of the Indian Territory asphalt that it would answer the purpose just as well if properly laid."

J. Weiss—"The pavement we now have is too good to abandon."

H. K. Rowley—"Certainly we want it repaired. It would be the worst kind of waste not to do so."

C. W. Jewell—"Our asphalt is too nice and too expensive an article to allow it to go to waste. Mr. Bonebrake's letter expressed my views on the subject exactly."

H. K. Tert—"When the pavement was put down I was opposed to asphalt, but now I think it is the best pavement on earth, and I want to see it kept in good repair."

E. T. Sim—"Asphalt is the most desirable, for all purposes, of any pavement we have, and it is a mistake not to take care of it."

C. O. Knowles—"There is time enough to abandon the pavement when it is past repairing. Until then we should make the best possible use of it. It should be repaired without delay."

W. W. Manspeaker—"I want the asphalt repaired. It is the worst kind of policy to let $800,000 rot in the streets."

Sam Hindman—"I like the asphalt, and it is too good to let go to waste. It ought to be good for a half a dozen years yet."

George Eagle—"I detest the brick pavement, and I should say it would be economy to repair the asphalt."

L. S. Woolverton—"We cannot afford to let the pavement go without repair. There is too much invested. I venture the assertion that $2,000 a year would keep Kansas avenue in model condition."

D. A. Clements—"I don't want brick. We ought to repair what we've got."

C. F. Bolmar—"I don't pay as big taxes as some, but as a citizen who has to preambulate the streets considerably, I should say the pavement ought to be repaired right away, on the theory that 'a stitch in time saves nine.' I want the asphalt repaired with asphalt, however, and not with brick or calico."

W. C. Campbell—"The most business-like thing to do now is to repair it. The asphalt is the best pavement we have."

J. D. McFarland—"I still believe it was a mistake to put the asphalt down in the first place, but now we ought to make it last as long as possible."

J. W. F. Hughes—"I am partial to asphalt, and I want it repaired with asphalt."

C. B. Hamilton—"There is no doubt of the wisdom of making the repairs right away."

A. C. Sherman—"If any of my property was on Kansas avenue I would insist on the repairs being made without any more delay."

Furman Baker—"The people paid out lots of their good money for our asphalt and it is unjust to them to let it run down in this way."

MRS. SACHSE GOES INSANE.
Thinking Her Daughter Had Died She Was Burning Her Bedclothes.

Almost since the first house was built in North Topeka, an old German woman has sold cakes, pies, fruits and cigars in a building near the north end of the Kansas avenue bridge.

She has been known as Mrs. Sachse and further than this, little has been known about her. She has kept a quiet orderly place, no men have been known to be about the establishment, and her business has never seemed to be extraordinarily prosperous.

Yesterday Officer Frank Summers discovered her in her back yard burning her bedclothes. On questioning her he found her laboring under the hallucination that her daughter had died in the house and that she was destroying the belongings which had been used during her illness.

The officer called the patrol wagon and took her to the station, where she is kept pending an investigation by the probate court. Her daughter, who is married to a wealthy brewer in Denver, was wired regarding her mother's condition and it is thought she will come on here and take charge of the matter. Mrs. Sachse owned the property where she lived.

Just received a new lot of spring goods. They are nobbier. Prices ranging from $20 to $40.

A NOVEL METHOD.

To Raise Funds for the Kansas Suffrage Campaign.

The officers of the National American Woman's Suffrage association have issued an address to suffragists throughout the country, asking that they show their appreciation of the life work of Lucy Stone by raising a memorial birthday fund to be used for the Kansas campaign. The address says:

"If every woman who admired Lucy Stone or who believes in the righteousness of the cause to which she gave herself, will take one of the mite boxes for the 'Lucy Stone memorial fund' for the Kansas campaign, and either put in or secure for it one cent a day between now and Lucy Stone's birthday in August, the expenses of the entire campaign can be raised without being a burden upon anyone, and thus would be created a memorial worthy the woman in whose name it is designed, of precisely the kind she herself would most approve."

"As the boxes bear upon one side a picture of Lucy Stone, they are desirable souvenirs. Their cost is but five cents each, including postage and packing. It is a part of the plan to have them opened upon Lucy Stone's birthday, August 18th, at a memorial meeting of the Woman's Suffrage association in each locality."

REPAIRS ON THE CITY JAIL.
Danger That the Iron Cells Will Break Through the Floor.

Police Commissioner Krauss had Architect Leosher at the Police headquarters Saturday pointing out to him the most serious defects in the building as it now stands, for the purpose of leaving him make some estimates of the cost to place it in proper repair.

Besides the defective tower over the chief's office, the heavy iron cells in the men's apartment have borne down so heavily on the floor that it has caused it to sink several inches, and there is danger of it caving in.

Today a force of workmen was set to work propping up the floor.

GRAND OPERA.
A Short Season of It to Be Given at Kansas City.

The grand opera festival at Kansas City, beginning April 18th, is going to attract a great many people to that city from Topeka.
